Dear Portfolio Show Visitor

Whether it's up, down, through, or around I always find a way to solve any dilemma that's in my path. I strive for efficiency and creative solutions in the least amount of time possible. In every team and workplace, I quickly rise to become indispensable thanks to my energy and drive which flourishes the most in professional settings. I would be thrilled to bring my knowledge and abilities as a visionary to your company.

I've spent the majority of my time professionally in the restaurant industry because I enjoy the fast pace and intensity of the environment. During my days in this environment, I find peace in the challenge of a rush where I am constantly called to streamlining processes and raising the standard of service. Collaborating with my team to implement innovative ideas energizes me, as I lead by example, fostering a culture of efficiency and excellence. Similarly, in academia, I approach each project as an opportunity to shine, eagerly engaging with classmates to explore fresh perspectives and advance projects forward.

I am excited to implement the skills I've learned in other professional settings into media and film production. I would like to apply my creative abilities to creating visual content and team building to harness the power of a group that shares my passions. Furthermore, I look forward to working in more detail with professional production equipment to hone the skills I've acquired so far.

I would be incredibly interested in supporting your company's mission and goals as they align with my interests well. I'd like to schedule a time to discuss the opportunity more and will be emailing you shortly to find a time that suits you.

Best Regards,

Adrianna Jasso
