Dear Portfolio Show Visitor,

My enthusiasm for pursuing a career in the world of filmmaking stems from my strong desire for the art of storytelling and the advancement of new media technologies. My parents once told me that my career aspirations should be naturally aligned with my true passion in life; and this is what the world of filmmaking is to me, my passion.

Motivating people to work with me towards a common, worthwhile goal is something that I find hugely enjoyable and rewarding. As a media editing consultant for the Hillsboro School District, I have been extremely pleased that we have more student applicants for summer programs than ever before. I believe that the marketing videos that I put together for potential students played a part in attracting the volume of applicants that the district has.

One of the most rewarding aspects of working with the Hillsboro School District has been the work I have done with the media student interns. During my time at the district, the number of interns involved in the video projects has helped spread information about the district's summer programs and I have enjoyed both the challenge of raising the profile of the community and my work with young, aspiring content creators. I have much to learn, and I am eager to.

Sincerely,

Patrick Acevedo
