

Emily Jane Price

---

---

Dear Portfolio Show Visitor,

Thank you so much for visiting my portfolio. I'm very excited to introduce myself and to someday connect with you!

This is my final year at Portland State University and I am more than excited to jump head first into my professional career as a documentary filmmaker.

My passion for filmmaking comes from my desire to extract our human connection with the natural environment. I have a deep passion for the outdoors and understanding how our relationship with nature affects our experience with the world and the one's around us. I am driven to become a journalist to produce creative nonfiction stories to create impactful change. I believe change comes by empathy and empathy is created by captivating storytelling.

Over the course of my time studying at Portland State University, I have come to meet so many creative and driven people. I've been a student leader at PSU.tv where I led and produced remarkable student feature and short length films. I have been involved in the Portland Film community in producing personal projects of my own and supporting local production as crew. In addition, I've had the greatest opportunity to intern at Uncage the Soul Productions in which I was introduced to the larger sphere of professional freelancing production. The community of filmmakers here are inspiring by their dedication and innovation.

One thing you'll notice when browsing my portfolio, is that I have experience in almost every bucket. That is because of two things I've learned; you have to try, and you can't do anything alone. I value film because it creates strong communities by its ability to explore shared vision. Film is also an opportunity to learn and grow from something new. I am someone who is not afraid to take chances or to run with crazy ideas. You never know where they might lead, and sometimes that's the point.

After school, my next steps are to continue following my passion for the outdoors, one day becoming an outdoor guide or volunteer firefighter. Today, I am directly looking towards an entry level position, assisting journalists and producers for nonfiction media companies, either with news broadcasts or documentary production houses. I can't wait for a lifetime of collaboration and curiosities.

Please feel free to reach out to me if you're interested in connecting. On my website, you will find links to my portfolio and social accounts.

Thank you for your time!

Emily Jane Price

journalist.filmmaker.creator

emilyjane.works@gmail.com
emilyjaneworks.com

---