Dear Portfolio Show Visitor,

Thank you for taking the time out of your day to view my portfolio. My name is Grant Benesh and I am a senior here at Portland State University. Since I was young, film making has been how I express myself and communicate with the world. I lean towards the creative and technical side, and am always searching for ways to learn and take my abilities to the next level.

I discovered the power of color grading to tell stories and communicate emotions early in my film making career. I have always looked for different avenues to express myself and create work that set me apart from others, and color grading became one of means. Very quickly it has become my main area of interest and expertise. I have had to opportunity to work on numerous projects ranging from short films, branded media, and corporate content. Using color, I was able to elevate story, increase production value, and expand creative boundaries . Along with the creative aspect of color grading, I have knowledge of the technical process of color correction, color grading, working in a variety of color spaces, and ensuring the final work is consistent across various formats.

My favorite part about working in film is the creative and collaborative process with my peers. With each project, I am able to learn and grow as a filmmaker and also as a human. I love knowing that I am able to contribute in an important way and bring life into someone's dream.

Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you!
